

Herman Miller Global WFH Program
Registration Instructions

Singapore

Welcome to the Herman Miller WFH Global Program

Explore a collection of world class ergonomic products ready to support you when working from home. Now's the perfect time to create a home office you'll love, and that will help you perform at your best while maintaining ergonomic wellbeing.

To access the site, please note the following instructions:

1. Register on our site at <http://eshop-xtra.com.sg/wfh-login> with your corporate email address.
2. Upon submitting your registration, your account will be pending approval for access to the discounted products. You will not be able to view the promotional Global WFH Program products on our website until your registration has been approved.
3. Kindly allow us 1 working day to review and confirm your account eligibility.
4. You will receive an email once your registration is approved, with the link to our Global WFH Program product page, where you will be able to shop exclusive products and prices as advertised.
5. Should there be any issues pertaining to registration or site access, please email contactus@xtra.com.sg.